Experience Education

For over 40 years, our specialist educational travel brands have made it their mission to deliver the most diverse and extraordinary range of educational travel experiences on the planet.

We've successfully launched over 45,000 school trips and seen more than 1.5 million students travel throughout 100 countries. And while 2020 was a year which brought these life enriching experiences to a grinding halt, it also reminded us of their immeasurable value. So during the last 18 months, we've taken time to think about how we can deliver the very best in educational travel in a post-lockdown world.

Some things remain the same; the importance of our teams of specialists, creating trips to deliver the very best outcomes for students. And of course, making every step as easy as possible for the educators. And some things have changed; so we've developed financial assurances for COVID related refunds and further strengthened our health and safety protocols, bringing peace of mind should society become grounded again.

Find out more about Experience Education over the next few pages, and how we can create extraordinary experiences for you and your students.

GIVING YOU

Peace of Mind

We know that schools, colleges and clubs are desperate to restart educational travel, with an understandable focus on the financial and personal safety assurances of the travel company they choose.

We strongly believe that the future of school travel depends on travel organisations increasing their focus and commitment to these areas, and so have made it our mission to lead the industry in providing these reassurances to our school communities.

All our Experience Education brands have a long history of holding nationally recognised safety accreditations, and alongside the 2000+ in-country safety audits carried out each year, we do everything we can to ensure our travellers are safeguarded in the very best ways possible.

And since 2020, we as an organisation, have refunded as many as 20,000 families across the UK due to COVID-19 cancellations. In addition, we have the financial stability of being part of Travelopia, one of the world's largest collection of travel brands.

Sustainability

We believe in the many incredible, life-changing impacts of experiential travel and stand committed to ensuring a brighter future for both people and planet.

Our brands work across the following 5 key action areas:

WELFARE

Our trips meet a high ethical benchmark with regards to child and animal welfare. From curated Child Protection forums across the world to signing the Wildlife-Friendly travel pledge in partnership with World Animal Protection - we're dedicated to protecting the most vulnerable members of our society.

PLASTIC

We are well on our way to achieving a total ban of single use plastics on our trips. We have begun limiting plastics through initiatives such as the Travellers Against Plastic pledge, already culling over 100,000 plastic bottles from our travellers each year.

CARBON

We're adapting the way we operate and run our trips to reduce our carbon footprint. Currently, 20% of our international trips are climate positive, with emissions mitigated through gold standard certified initiatives. Our aim is to increase this percentage incrementally with each day, week, month (and year) that passes.

EDUCATION

We empower our travellers to better understand their impact on people and planet through the use of our newly introduced online Learning Management System, with informative pre-departure tips on how to make responsible choices while travelling.

WORKPLACES

We're minimising the impact of our offices and workplaces on the environment through use of recycling, paperless documentation, energy efficiency protocols and an introduction of green energy usage wherever possible.
